THE STATIONER TO THE READER.

Have with some Industry and Trouble, made the following Collection of Books Printed in England since the Dreadful fire of London in 1666, having mentioned many (besides the additions) that were omitted in the former Catalogues; but thought it not material to mention those Printed before the Fire, there being then such a general destruction of Books (and scarcity, till Re-printed) that the loss to our particular Trade in Books onely, was valued at One hundred and fifty thousand pounds.

Vide Stat.
Eng. p.
203. part
Second.

In reference to the Prices which I mention, many of them are uncertain, in regard of the various fortune that Books, as well as Men, are subject to; for they continue, rise or fall in their price, according to the repute of the Author, plenty, or scarcity of the Impression, &c.

I have onely to add, that I have made some progress in Collecting the Titles of Latin Books on all Subjects Printed beyond the Seas since 1666. and intend to publish it in Easter Terme next.
